

Like our nation's leaders, HR professionals are tackling the most pressing issues
of the day ... every day.

Rising health care costs, family and medical leave, balancing labor and management needs, and a workforce in transition. The Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) and its 250,000 members understand these challenges. We're working with Washington's leaders to offer fresh ideas to help solve some of the toughest issues facing employees and employers today.

SHRM is HR ... and HR is meeting the challenges of a changing world.
