General Community Lifestyle

LIVE YOUR LIFE ON COURSE

GRAND JUNCTION, COLORADO – Where the mountains meet the desert, there is a place where golf, outdoor recreation and community blend together perfectly to create an exceptional western lifestyle. Redlands Mesa Golf Course Community is spectacularly situated between the towering rock formations of the Colorado National Monument and the sprawling vistas of the Grand Mesa. Jaw-dropping views combined with an award-winning 18-hole championship course offer residents a golfing lifestyle that most can only dream about.

Having received numerous awards, Redlands Mesa Golf Community is a nationally recognized, premier golf community. The Robb Report ranked Redlands Mesa among the world’s eight most exceptional golf communities that fly under the radar, “For those who eat, sleep and breathe golf, living in a luxury community that revolves around rolling verdant fairways is a dream. For some, it is a matter of a smart investment. But for most, it is a quality-of-life issue: It is about escaping city life in exchange for a manicured slice of the countryside.”

Designed by award-winning golf architect, Jim Engh, the course is masterfully routed to take advantage of the majestic landscape with minimal disturbance to the native terrain. Players can tee off from narrow pinnacles and skirt along the edges of sheer cliffs. The course offers a true championship layout with many exciting features including elevated tees, unique hole shaping and of course dramatic, world-class vistas.

According to Golf Digest, which ranked Redlands Mesa 17th on its annual list of America's 100 Greatest Public Golf Courses, "Positioned beneath the slopes of jagged buttes south of Grand Junction, Colorado, in the shadow of the towering pink and red sandstone face of the Colorado National Monument, Redlands Mesa is like playing golf along the bottom of the Grand Canyon, with a couple of sojourns to the Garden of the Gods thrown in."

As unique as the course itself, the Clubhouse at Redlands Mesa acts as an elegant centerpiece for the golfing community, integrating beautiful organic design that echoes the surrounding landscape while taking advantage of the 360 degree views that abound. It is the place to meet for social gatherings, fine dining and special events. Overlooking the first fairway, diners can relax amid the panoramic views, enjoy fresh contemporary American cuisine and sip local award-winning wines. It's the ideal place to meet after a round of golf with friends and family.

Redlands Mesa Golf Community is also a smart real estate investment; a safe harbor in a turbulent, unpredictable national economy. Grand Junction was recently ranked 24th in the nation by Forbes' on their annual list of Best Small Places for Businesses and Careers. It was also named by Housing Predictor, an independent real estate forecaster, as one of the "Hottest 10 Buyers Markets" for 2008. Attaining a slot on either list is no easy task, especially in today's real estate climate. The cities which made the grade have healthy, strong economies with the potential for being exceptionally prosperous in the future.

Keeping Redlands Mesa Golf Community at the forefront of the golf and real estate markets not only in Grand Junction, but nationally is the BrightStar Golf Group and BrightStar Golf Redlands Mesa which owns and operates the property and course. Founded in 2003 BrightStar has carefully acquired a select group of properties to add to its collection of exemplary golf properties, Redlands Mesa is one of five such resorts in the western United States. The BrightStar Golf Group team prides itself on meeting and exceeding the desires and expectations of a golf club's members and guests.

The twelve distinct neighborhoods in Redlands Mesa offer many opportunities for real estate buyers and golf enthusiasts. While neighboring developments claim "nearby golf," Redlands Mesa is a true golf community with homesites and amenities designed with the avid golf enthusiast in mind. A variety of price points, building options that allow for both custom and semi-custom construction and several different golf memberships allow residents to tailor their home life and golfing pursuits to suit individual lifestyles. Redlands Mesa Golf Community makes it easy to live your life on course. ✨

Redlands Mesa Golf Course Hole Descriptions

Andy Nikkari, Redlands Mesa Golf Superintendent, provides insights and descriptions of each hole on the award-winning course.

HOLE #1 – PAR 4

This opening hole requires a well-hit tee shot that needs to avoid the fairway bunker on the right side of the fairway. There is more green to the left than appears from the fairway.

HOLE #2 – PAR 4

A breathtaking tee shot looking towards Mount Garfield and the Grand Mesa. Slightly longer than the opening hole, this tee shot plays downhill. Avoid missing tee shot to the left, for the lake comes in to play as you round the corner.

HOLE #3 – PAR 3

An accurate tee shot is necessary due to the inability to see the entire green. Trust your yardage, it's a big green with bunkers short right and behind the green.

HOLE #4 – PAR 4

This straight away Par 4 may become known as the “Cliff Hole”. The entire right side drops off with a perfect view of the entrance to the Colorado National Monument. Be careful not to be long or right on your approach.

HOLE #5 – PAR 5

A partially blind tee shot from the back tee. Play this tee shot directly at the fairway bunker. A mid to long iron second shot will leave you a short iron over a native area to a small green. Club selection is important because of the two-tier green.

HOLE #6 – PAR 4

A challenging downhill dogleg right; avoid fairway bunker on the right side. An aggressive approach will keep the lake, which is short and left of the green, out of play.

HOLE #7 – PAR 4

A wide fairway awaits you as you play the longest Par 4 on the course. A well-positioned bunker could be trouble for some second shots. Plays uphill, so be sure to hit plenty of club.

HOLE #8 – PAR 3

A breathtaking downhill Par 3 that plays over a large lake. Club selection is the key to avoid the water and bunker short of the green and the large boulders, which are just past the green. The expansive but shallow green will test your putting nerves.

HOLE #9 – PAR 4

A solid tee shot is critical to carry a large ravine and avoid the OB along the right side. Take plenty of club to avoid bunkers right and left of the green. The green narrows significantly at the back to allow for some difficult pin placements.

HOLE #10 – PAR 5

This downhill par 5 will be reachable for the longer hitters. Avoid large bunker to the left off the fairway. A generous landing area awaits those who choose to lay up. There is a possible blind second shot for those who attempt to go for it on their second shot.

HOLE #11 – PAR 4

A superb hole that awards good shots. The downhill tee shot can play quite differently depending on the wind. Avoid the natural wash to the left and the bunker selectively placed on the right portion of the fairway. The green is deeper than it appears, so take plenty of club.

HOLE #12 – PAR 3

A large green awaits your tee shot which must avoid a large bunker in front and a small pot bunker positioned behind the right corner of the green.

HOLE # 13 – PAR 5

As you play this dogleg Par 5, you will begin to enjoy the canyon panoramas. A well-placed second shot is necessary to avoid the sand and water that surrounds this shallow green.

HOLE #14 – PAR 4

A long, straight tee shot is key to playing this sharp dogleg that will leave most golfers with a partially blind second shot over a large rock to a narrow, deep green.

HOLE #15 – PAR 5

A sweeping dogleg right, avoid the bunkers that run along the left side. The player may choose how much they can cut off the dogleg to carry a natural wash that runs along the entire right hand side.

HOLE #16 – PAR 4

The tee shot around the lake will need to be long and straight. This uphill dogleg left Par 4 will require a well-hit approach shot in order to carry the seven pot bunkers that are positioned short of the green.

HOLE #17 – PAR 3

A dramatic tee shot, with a 150-foot vertical drop from tee to green. It is a large green surrounded by a rock amphitheater. Avoid the deep bunker to the right of the green. Truly the most memorable tee shot at Redlands Mesa.

HOLE #18 – PAR 4

This great final hole requires a well-placed tee shot to avoid the large bunkers on the right side of the fairway. The second shot plays uphill more than it appears; better to be long.

Redlands Mesa Golf Communities

BECAUSE WHERE YOU LIVE HAS A LOT TO DO WITH HOW YOU LIVE

GRAND JUNCTION, COLORADO – Redlands Mesa Golf Community is comprised of twelve distinct neighborhoods, each with the golfing life at its heart and soul. The unique setting located on the outskirts of Grand Junction offers uncompromising views of some of the state’s most magnificent natural treasures, including the visually stunning Colorado National Monument, the austere Bookcliffs and the lush landscape of the Grand Mesa.

Careful attention to the natural setting was a prime consideration in every aspect of the golf-course community construction. Top priorities, from the beginning, included preserving the high desert landscape while capitalizing on the natural beauty and mystery of the setting. Since 2007, BrightStar Golf Group has served as steward of this majestic landscape, golf course and community. Of the 500 acres, one third is set aside as natural open space, one third for golf course, and one third for homesites.

Each neighborhood within Redlands Mesa is architecturally driven with design guidelines to ensure timeless community integrity. Homesites vary in size from .3 to 2.39 acres and are priced from $150,000 to $850,000.

Redlands Mesa Golf Communities

HIGH DESERT: Homesites in this area are located along the ridge of Red Canyon on High Desert Road. They are situated to overlook the golf course in the canyon below and also provide unobstructed views of the Colorado National Monument.

SHADOW LAKE: Nestled between the 5th, 6th and 7th Fairways, this charming neighborhood enchants with views of nature’s artistry in the form of cobbled, slab canyon walls. All the homesites in the neighborhood open onto golf- course, dedicated open space, or Shadow Lake.

10 OVERLOOK: So named because it overlooks the 10th green of the award-winning Redlands Mesa Golf Course. This group of six sites each offer unparalleled views of the Colorado National Monument.

RED RIDGE: Located on a quiet cul-de-sac at one of the Redland’s higher elevations, these sites boast majestic views of the Colorado National Monument to the west, the 18th Fairway to the north, the Bookcliff Mountains and the Grand Mesa.

FAIRWAY: These homesites also feature dramatic views of the surrounding landscape, including the Grand Mesa, Bookcliff Mountains, Mount Garfield, and the twinkling night lights of Grand Junction. Additionally, they are situated just up from the 1st Fairway and overlook the elegant, stone and stucco Clubhouse.

IRON HORSE: No more than twenty homes will be constructed in this exclusive enclave reserved for the sophisticated buyer who wants a customized, beautifully landscaped, low-maintenance home. Located between the 1st and 9th Fairways, these sites are within walking distance of the Clubhouse.

OVERLOOK: Located on one of the highest elevations in Redlands Mesa, Overlook lots are large and feature panoramic views of the surrounding mountains and golf course. There are only 11 homesites in this tranquil, prestigious neighborhood.

MERIDIAN: This neighborhood is tucked into the heart of Redlands Mesa between the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Fairways. Meridian provides its residents a quiet refuge with monumental views.

GREENS OF 18: These two prestigious estate lots overlook the 18th Green with dramatic views of the surrounding rock formations and the Colorado National Monument.

LYNX: Encircled by golf course links and frequented by resident wildlife, including the native lynx or bobcat as it is called, the Lynx neighborhood offers a comfortable living locale in a dramatic setting.

KESTREL RIDGE: Located high on a ridge with views in all directions, these homesites offer quiet seclusion and the quickest access to town via Monument Road.

THE ESTATES: These 1.7 to 2.39 acre lots are the best that Redlands Mesa has to offer; dramatic views of the Monument, Bookcliffs and Grand Mesa combined with plenty of room for building a dream-come-true home, as well as a separate guest house or casita. *

Redlands Mesa Golf Personnel Biographies

JIM ENGH, ENGH GOLF DESIGN GROUP

Jim has 28 years of experience in the golf course design profession. Jim chose to start his own firm in 1991 to provide efficiency, professionalism and creativity to his clients. Jim's dedication and ability to deliver precise design documentation has proved a very successful combination. As projects in Asia and the U.S. were completed, recognition of Jim's work resulted in many award-winning golf courses highlighted in 2003 with his unprecedented third straight win in Golf Digest's annual survey of "America's Best New Courses." Jim was also named Golf Digest's Architect of the Year for 2003.

ERIC FEELY, GENERAL MANAGER/PGA DIRECTOR OF GOLF

Eric leads a highly qualified team in the Pro Shop, Restaurant, Outside Services and Golf Course Maintenance. Eric has been with Redlands Mesa since April 2001. Formerly of Deer Creek Village Golf Club in Cedaredge, Colorado, he has worked as a golf professional on the Western Slope for the past 20 years and was awarded "Golf Professional of the Year" in 1996, 2000, and 2002. Eric's experience in all facets of club operations and his philosophy of exceptional customer service will ensure a unique golf and dining experience.

ANDY NIKKARI, COURSE SUPERINTENDENT

Andy heads the highly skilled course maintenance team at Redlands Mesa and has been with us for over 7 years now. Previously the Assistant Superintendent at The Aspen Glen Club in Carbondale, Colorado, he also worked at various clubs in the Denver area since 1982. Andy has taken an award-winning design and made it as spectacular to look at as it is to play.

Grand Junction Community Facts GRAND JUNCTION: A HUB FOR LIVING THE GOOD LIFE

GRAND JUNCTION, COLORADO – Grand Junction, Colorado – The Colorado and Gunnison Rivers set the stage long ago, slowly carving and shaping the region known as the Grand Valley. In their wake they left behind a majestic, rugged, western landscape that acts as both a playground for outdoor pursuits and a backdrop for everyday activities. The area was once the home of dinosaurs, early aboriginal people, Spaniards, explorers such as Kit Carson, and early American pioneers. Today, Grand Junction is home to a diverse population drawn to the area’s many natural and man-made attractions. Grand Junction, bordered on three sides by the Colorado National Monument, the Bookcliff Mountains, and the Grand Mesa offers endless recreational opportunities. As the largest regional hub between Denver and Salt Lake City, it is also home to a healthy and thriving economy.

Grand Junction Community Facts

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK: Despite the national trend toward recession, Grand Junction continues to be home to a stable, varied and thriving economic climate. In fact, Grand Junction recently cracked Forbes' 2009 list of 25 Best Small Places for Businesses and Careers, coming in at #24. The ranking is nationwide and Grand Junction is the only small metropolitan area in Colorado to make the prestigious list. Factors such as colleges, cost of doing business, educational attainment, and projected job growth are taken into account in determining the rankings. This, accolade, is just one of many that underscores Grand Junction's position as a healthy, growing community despite adverse national trends.

INDUSTRY BASE: Grand Junction's economic prosperity stems from its economic diversity. It includes industries such as manufacturing, oil & gas extraction, mining, construction, healthcare and medical services, professional services, agriculture and tourism as well as a large retail and customer service sector. Grand Junction is also a distribution staging center due to its location on I-70 and proximity to the railroad.

HEALTH CARE: Grand Junction is the largest regional medical health center between Denver and Salt Lake City. Three area hospitals including the largest, St. Mary's Hospital, offer patients full-service medical and emergency care. Grand Junction boasts one of the highest doctors to patient ratios in the country.

TRANSPORTATION: Grand Junction Regional Airport is a modern all weather airport. Air service is provided by US Airways, Skywest/Delta Connection, United Express, Frontier, Allegiant Air and American Eagle serving Salt Lake City, Phoenix, Denver, Las Vegas and Dallas/Fort Worth with over 20 daily direct flights.

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES: It has been said that Grand Junction offers more outdoor recreational activities within a 100-mile radius than any other city in the United States.

HIKING, FISHING & EXPLORING: The Colorado National Monument is known as "Colorado's Canyonlands." Towering spires, deep canyons and spectacular views can be explored from numerous points including the popular Serpent's and Otto's Trails. Backcountry hiking is also possible with a permit. At 6,000 feet above the Grand Valley, the Grand Mesa is home to 200 lakes and 700 miles of hiking, biking and snowmobiling trails. A drive along the 63-mile Grand Mesa National Scenic Byway is a great way to explore nature's wonders.

CYCLING: Grand Junction is home to an avid cycling population. Great weather and lots of cycling terrain make biking a top activity in the area. There are 1,000's of miles of trails to explore for all levels of cyclists from paved paths to single tracks. Two of the most popular mountain biking trails are the Kokopelli and Tabaguache Trails, both are 142 miles long.

WILD HORSES: There are few places in the United States where wild horses still roam free. A herd, numbering between 80 -120 members can often be seen in the protected area of the Little Bookcliffs where they meander, play and run free in the canyons and plateaus. Catch a glimpse of these majestic creatures from horseback on guided day or evening trips.

SKIING & SNOWMOBILING: Located on the Grand Mesa, Powderhorn Ski Area is just a 40-minute drive from downtown Grand Junction. At an elevation at over 10,000 feet the ski area has ample snow for winter fun. Snowmobilers will love the hundreds of miles of maintained, groomed riding trails including the popular Sunlight to Powderhorn Trail.

TASTY TREATS: The Grand Junction area is blessed with fertile soil ideal for growing all sorts of crops including its fabled grapes and peaches.

VINEYARDS: The region is home to 17 wineries and was designated by the federal government as an American Viticultural Area (AVA) in recognition of the high quality grapes produced by local growers. Visit any time of year, taste and learn about the fine art of winemaking. Fall is especially festive with the annual Colorado Winefest held each September.

PEACHES: Peaches are the other delectable treat that so many people look forward to each season. The local orchards are known for their juicy, sweet, mouthwatering fruit. Peach growers will gladly offer slices, recipes and boxes bursting with summer's bounty. Don't miss the legendary Palisade Peach Festival each August.

ARTS & CULTURE: Theatre, music and museums take center stage in Grand Junction. An ever changing calendar of plays and concerts entertains throughout the year at a number of venues in town. Museums educate about diverse subjects including dinosaurs, math & science, and what early life in the surrounding area was like. ✨
