

Dear Member,

Loip team is pleased to announce several new features to help you have a great time and a lot of fun in loip. Moreover, with our new index page, we hope to bring you a nice and comfortable experience when visiting loip.com. Please review the following new features. We hope these features can give you more opportunities to interact with other users.

Released date: July 1, 2009

Demand board:

We have prepared a demand board function for our members to submit advice requests. This service also enables loip's experts to take the initiative in contacting with their potential customers.

Discussion board:

The new version offers a discussion board for our users to interact with others included the experts by exchanging information here. Everyone can use discussion board for free by logging in to loip.

Q&A board:

The service is provided by loip experts. Our users can submit questions before making decision to call the chosen seller. Otherwise, sellers are still able to be contacted by sending messages privately if the question is privacy-concerned.

Make an appointment:

This feature allows users to schedule a time to talk with the experts. It can prevent any unnecessary interruption or missed call.

More features are on schedule, and will be released soon. For the latest details on new features, please visit us by clicking here.

Sincerely,
Loip Team
