Mr. John Young, C.E.O.: "Contrary to common belief, the real causes of overweight/obesity are chemical toxicity, stress, emotional issues, bad nutrition, hormonal imbalance, lack of mobility and even parasite infestation. The new generation of overweight and obesity problems came about with the Industrial Revolution, which significantly altered our food, soil, and environment, which in turn causes poor nutrition, stressed lifestyle, and virtually eliminates any kind of physical work or manual labor around the house and at work, such as the grave dependency on automobiles for transportation and all other technology-based things that save us from any form of physical work or activity.

Most weight-loss programs fail to focus on the real origins of the problems at hand. Nutritionists, wellness programs, and even physicians overlook the causing factors of the problems their patients face. Today more than ever, losing weight is harder, and this brings people to recur to methods that are dangerous for their health and that sometimes even put their lives at stake through, extreme diets, unnecessary surgeries, dangerous pharmaceuticals and even natural harmful methods”.

The key objective of an internal cleanse is to support the body's natural ability to have 2-3 bowel movements a day, and to release accumulated toxins in the colon while assisting with overall vital organ health. Users can expect less bloat, less water retention, improved energy and vitality. Users should not have watery stools, severe cramping or weakness of any kind.

As a dietary supplement, adults should take 3-8 capsules before bed. Start with low dosage and gradually increase until desired bowel cleansing is reached, or as directed by a physician. Average dose is 3 capsules per day. Bowtrol is all natural and can be taken safely for life.
