Every parent's dilemma is watching their family grow out of clothing...

Wondering what the heck they're going to wear? The clothes that used to fit, hang abandoned at the back of their closets. Perhaps you've just spent weeks, sculpturing the new you. Your clothes now hang limp and lifeless. Sure, it's a happy dilemma but a frustrating one as well. Your kids are growing up, your body is getting slimmer.

What to do about clothing?

It's time to go shopping, but you don't want to pay full retail price for clothing that will only fit for a time.
