

Iris Hires Regional Director for Texas Leading Electronic Discovery Company Adds Ryan Rhodes in Sales Role

HOUSTON, September 21, 2009 — Iris Data Services, a leading provider of eDiscovery solutions, announced today they have hired Ryan Rhodes as the Regional Director serving Texas. Rhodes will office in Houston and cover the entire state including Dallas/Ft. Worth, Austin, and San Antonio. Iris Data Services is a leading supplier of electronic discovery solutions including tape restoration, computer forensics, eDiscovery, and online review utilizing their proprietary review platform, Unify™.

“Iris is a leader in electronic discovery and litigation services,” said Rhodes. “Their recent inroads into Texas have strengthened their presence in the U.S. marketplace and I am excited about joining their team.” In his role as Regional Director, Rhodes will lead sales of Iris’ suite of eDiscovery services throughout Texas including Houston, Dallas/Ft. Worth, Austin, and San Antonio.

“Ryan comes to us at a significant time in our growth,” said the president of Iris, Major Baisden. “We are involved in more and more complex litigation, particularly in the oil and gas industry, and his expertise in eDiscovery technologies will help us serve this growing sector of our business.”

About Ryan Rhodes

Ryan Rhodes has worked in the legal industry for seven years. Prior to joining Iris, Rhodes worked for Benchmark Legal Solutions and Xact Data Discovery in various sales support and management roles. Before entering the legal technology space, Rhodes worked in the web development industry. Rhodes is a graduate of Texas A&M University with a B.A. in Business Administration. Rhodes also holds a Master Certificate of Information Technology Project Management from Villanova University.
