

Lincoln
Center
Theater's

BROKE-OLGY

Ushers in 25th Anniversary Season

Broke-ology is a story about two brothers struggling to care for their widowed father suffering from multiple sclerosis, while trying to find balance in their own lives. Featuring Wendell Pierce, a series regular on the HBO drama The Wire, the play deals with themes of race, hardship and a family at a crossroads. Thomas Kail, director of the hit Broadway show, In the Heights, and up-and-coming Juilliard playwright, Nathan Louis Jackson, bring this heart wrenching story to life during Lincoln Center Theater's 25th anniversary season. For more information on Broke-ology, which officially opens on October 5 and runs until November 22, visit www.LCT.org.

Take a Peek

sneak peek of the show

Meet our Cast and Crew:

Crew:

Thomas Kail (Director)

Bio | Video

Nathan Louis Jackson (Playwright)

Bio | Video

Cast:

Francois Battiste
as Ennis King

Bio | Video

Crystal A. Dickinson
as Sonia King

Bio | Video

Alano Miller
as Malcolm King

Bio | Video

Wendell Pierce
as William King

Bio | Video

Follow Crystal!

LincolnCenterTheater
LCTheater

25th Anniversary issue of the LCT Review is now online!
<http://tinyurl.com/mjqwz6> My highlight? "Bakunin's Journal" by Ethan Hawke
28 days ago

Join the conversation

A Night Out at Lincoln Center

Map

History

Nearby Restaurants

Photo Gallery

Share

Contact

Davina Coard davina.coard@ketchum.com 646-935-4050