What is management?

Management is the subject's action directing to change and manipulate the objects and subjects of reality due to the program worked out in advance

What or whom we manage, when it goes about managing a project?

We manage the hierarchy of all project participants and interconnections between them

We manage a project as a system

... as a social system

How is it possible to interpret project management in the view of systems theory?

Project management is realization and spreading of purposeful managerial influences over all project participants and interconnections between them in the way to achieve project's goals

Who realizes project management and who is the subject of management?

...Project manager and project management team

What or who is the object of management?

The object of management in project are people!!!

How do we manage people?

...Collecting and processing the necessary information

...Studying variants and selecting the optimal managerial decision

...Bringing to executor managerial decision and getting its realization to be started

Effective management is an art based on simple, easy foundations and standing on the verge of the craft
