

JungleMaster has established its base of ministry in the Parinari district of the Amazon in Peru and has begun the process of reaching out into the side rivers and establishing new ministry areas.

We bring medical help and water purification to the people we reach, developing the relationships and trust that opens doors to receiving the word of God. We do this through a team of native Peruvian leaders that live and work in the jungle and local churches.

Jungle Master Ministries

Building Peruvian led, self-sustaining, missionary churches and training centers at the edge of civilization on the Amazon. From there, extending our reach into the deepest parts of the jungle with medicine, clean water and the word of God...

Strategic Partnerships

Through our NGO, “Maestro de la Selva” and our Church Charter, “JungleMaster Missionary Church” in Peru; JungleMaster has developed a working partnership with 5 local churches. We provide tools for construction, opportunities for economic growth and training in exchange for the leadership and manpower to send missionaries into the jungle.

Economic Projects

The well drill is a large piece of developing the income for a self sustaining Mission Center. We will soon have an outlet at the Mission Center for pure water to sell to local Eco Lodges and oil company personnel. A portable sawmill will be in place soon to complement the sale of dimensional wood products to local markets. JungleMaster also has chainsaws, generators and boats that are used by member churches to build and improve their facilities.

Water Projects

At our Mission Center we have equipment for clean water projects. Our Well drill is portable and can be transported between villages in a small boat. The drill is capable of sinking a 150 foot well in one day, and in the span of just three days we can have a operating water system up and delivering healthy water to the residents of a small village. JungleMaster can build a complete water system for half the cost of most other organizations. The drill is operated by members of our partner churches and also provides a source of income for the Mission Center.

Short Term “Mission Adventures”

Our teams travel deep into the jungle to work alongside local leaders. As a member of a “JungleMaster Mission Adventure” you will travel by ferry and canoe to get to remote jungle villages. You will live with and eat at the table of local leaders. JungleMaster can build your experience around your gifts; whether its medical, construction or education. Our teams have drilled wells, painted, pounded nails, trained leaders, provided medical assistance and worked with the children.

Safety and Health is a primary concern; You will stay in our guest house at the Mission Center in the jungle. There we have our own cooks to provide safe meals, you will have available a flush toilet and shower. The Mission Center has 8 screened double rooms for sleeping and to store gear.

Our team of National and North American guides combine the experience and know how to keep our teams healthy and safe in the jungle environment. Teams need 6 months to plan and should consist of 10 to 12 people.

How You Can Help

You can pray; nothing goes forward in step with God without first having the way paved in prayer.

You can go; Our Mission Adventures will stretch you and draw you closer to God. You will experience life and God in ways that may just reshape your own life forever.

You can give; JungleMaster is a faith based organization and is supported by the gifts of churches, businesses and individual people like yourself.

We invite you to help us bring hope to a hidden world. Thank you in advance for your interest.
