

Hello there! Yoink is the easiest way to get free things from people near you and give things away you don't need.

Find free things

Use the interactive map to locate free things closest to you. If you're the first person to "Yoink" an available item, it's yours. No bidding, no waiting. Once you Yoink an item you can privately message the giver to organise pickup.

Give things away that you don't need

Got an old couch taking up space? Cupboards full of unused crockery? As long as it is not rubbish, dangerous or ethereal you can give it on Yoink. Reuse extends the lifetime of consumer products to save energy, materials and money.

Keep an eye on world generosity

How generous are you compared to your neighbors? Do people in Latvia give more than people in New York? Yoink is monitoring world generosity one item at a time.

Notifications

Be the first to know about new items with email alerts and RSS feeds for your area.

Available on the Web or iPhone

Yoink aims to facilitate reuse in less than 30 seconds, use our uber-cool web interface or sexy iPhone app to get giving.

What does "Yoink" mean, anyway?

An onomatopoeiotic phrase popularized by The Simpsons used to verbally indicate one has taken something from another. "Nice iPhone you've got there... Yoink!"

You had me at hello

Get in touch, we'd love to answer any questions you have. Shoot an email to hello@yoink.com or tweet @Yoink

Web	http://www.yoink.com/
App Store	http://itunes.com/app/Yoink
Blog	http://blog.yoink.com/
Images	http://www.bonobolabs.com/yoink/epk.zip

a free service from
BONOBO

Bonobo is a self-funded Australian technology startup that creates compelling web and mobile products for passionate people with great ideas.

hello@bonobolabs.com • @bonobolabs • www.bonobolabs.com