

Students at risk need more than hope ...they need a plan.

Experts conducting site-based vulnerability assessments agreed that most schools "are unprepared to respond and react to most emergency situations with any degree of desired proficiency."

We have developed and patented a solution to address these issues and to empower educators and youth-serving professionals to successfully respond and react to emergency situations.

The American School Safety CRISIS RESPONSE KIT® (CRK) is a customized portable accessible emergency kit designed for use during building emergencies, critical incidents, or for training and practice of situational response drills.

Designed for use by: schools and colleges, institutions, businesses, hospitals, day care centers and elder care facilities.
