

Increased Government Scrutiny... Are You Ready?

As the US economy recovers more companies will utilize contingent workers. Complex employment laws and increased government scrutiny have heightened the risk of employee misclassifications and costly audits. If your company uses Independent Contractors or consultants you'll want to manage these risks while controlling your costs. Learn how to protect yourself from the IRS, EDD, or former contractors.

What

A complimentary breakfast briefing providing insight on the issues of Independent Contractor compliance and education on the solution, including a Q&A session with a leading federal and state compliance expert.
