"Reduce Your Risk of Sexual Harassment Complaints & Lawsuits"

Sexual Harassment Prevention:

Every year American companies pay out on average $50 million in legal fees for EEOC sexual harassment claims. Safeguard your organization from becoming another statistic with BridgeFront's Sexual Harassment online education. Employees and management will learn the facts, laws, and statistics on sexual harassment, and how to prevent it in your organization.

Learning Objectives:

- Identify various definitions of sexual harassment.
- What constitutes inappropriate behavior.
- Explore the legal implications of sexual harassment.
- Define management responsibilities as it relates to sexual harassment policies.
- Ensure appropriate handling of initial employee complaints.

Employee and Management Education:

Choose from the employee or management version - both courses will ensure your staff understands how to prevent and handle sexual harassment in your organization. Education is the best way to reduce your risk of sexual harassment complaints and costly lawsuits.

About Us: Rated a top-tier provider by our clients, BridgeFront provides online education for healthcare, government, business, and education. Our technology allows organizations to take our courses as-is, to modify our courses, or build their own. We provide expertise in compliance, the revenue cycle, clinical, and customer service communications.

Features & Benefits:

Role Based—Choose from the Sexual Harassment Prevention course for employees or for management.

Audio Narration—Learners will enjoy the skill-building and interactive audio narration on various pages throughout the courses.

Available Online 24/7—Web-based course can be taken on any internet-connected computer anytime, anywhere.

Virtual Bookmark & Notes—Students can take notes online and bookmark their place in the course to continue at a later time, if needed.

Certificates—Printable "Certificates of Mastery" are available once the course and test has been passed.

Customizable—Courses can be easily customized with your organization's information, such as policies and procedures.

Economical & Green—No costly instructors, classrooms, available online 24/7 and helps preserve our environment by saving on costly energy.

Testing—Review questions and testing engages the student and makes it easy to document employee education.

Management Reporting—Easily view and create custom employee course status reports every step of the way.

> "I just completed my training yesterday and thought it was the most interesting and informative training I've had in quite a while. It kept my interest and gave me a fantastic outlook on the processes I need to understand."
>
> - Cheryl Sherlock, Kaiser Permanente