

ANNOUNCING TRUE EMR DATA CONVERSION

Full Clinical Extraction & Conversion Services

Medical practices can spend months researching, selecting and implementing new EMR systems. ELLKAY specializes in extracting, analyzing and converting existing clinical data from one EMR system to another. We do not sell EMR software. Rather, we partner with EMR vendors allowing them to meet a rapidly growing industry need. Our solution enables physicians to switch to a system that works better for them.

We can cover all modules, including patient demographics, insurance, appointments, past medical history, family history, social history, surgical history, medications, allergies, vitals, immunizations, images, scanned documents, lab results, encounter notes and much more depending on your individual requirements.

Physicians can now choose an EMR system that works best for them instead of settling for a current EMR that may not fit their particular requirements.

Highly Adoptable

The ELLKAY Process

Our conversion team will act as an extension to your organization. This allows you to maintain your corporate image while offering highly customized & effective data extraction and conversion services.

Your Timeline

Flexible Scheduling

We always make sure to keep your client's needs our number one priority. Our proven process is tailored towards scheduling around their timeline & go-live date.

Worry-Free

Leave The Work To Us

We understand that physicians have their hands full. The last thing you need to worry about is how to move your patient medical data from your old EMR to your new EMR solution. Leave it to the pros at ELLKAY.

Sales Effective

Attract More Business

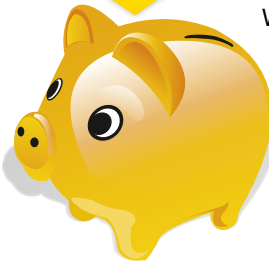

Practices unhappy with their current EMR solution can now realistically consider moving over to your EMR solution without losing their existing data. No one should be stuck with an EMR they don't like.

Fit Any Budget

Don't Break The Bank

We understand how important it is to meet the expectations of your client's budgetary needs. That's why we'll work together with you to find the right conversion package within your client's budget.

Data Extraction

It's Your Data

Patient data is our highest priority. Our extraction specialists will work to retrieve your data from your existing EMR so that we can convert it to the new EMR's format.
