More About Fleet Tracking with FoxtraxGPS.com

The larger your fleet, the more important it is for you to have good fleet tracking in place. Fleet tracking helps you increase efficiency and spot problem areas in your trucking business. You can try to rely on handwritten reports, or you can use advanced GPS technology to keep track of your fleet, no matter how large it grows.

All of your fleet tracking needs can be met by FoxTrax. We can handle large size fleets with our high performance architecture. Even if you have thousands of vehicles, set up and tracking is very simple and easy to learn.

Paying attention to your fleet activity and cutting costs is an important component of your trucking business. Don't suffer by using outdated tracking tools and software, or even modern GPS software that is just too complicated. We built our system to serve large customers who must track many trucks over a wide area. At the same time, we have kept the user interface simple and easy to use.

To guarantee that your tracking data is up to date, available when you need it, and protected, FoxTrax has invested in the proper structure and redundant servers. Our replicated database and redundant servers keep your data available with a up time well over 99%. Your tracking needs never stop, so we have built a GPS system that will always be available.

Since we have our own reporting and mapping system, we can customize your tracking system to any specific needs you might have. With the flexibility, up time, structure, and user interface you need, FoxTrax makes fleet tracking simple and more affordable.

Because we have low operating costs, we can pass on the savings directly to you. Further, an easy to use fleet tracking system will save you a lot of money in staffing and time tracking your fleet. GPS technology allows you to get specific fleet tracking information without loads of paperwork. It is more accurate and can be used to improve your routes and find efficiencies.

When you need real-time fleet tracking, you can rely on FoxTrax. We offer you the tools to track where your vehicles are at, right up to the minute. In fact, it's better than that. Our data age is measured in seconds, not minutes. Tracking data is sent as soon as it is collected, not in packets every few minutes. With this level of tracking, you can easily pinpoint vehicle locations and keep everything moving on schedule.

FoxTrax also uses multiple carriers to transmit data. Since we have our own system, we do not lock you in to one carrier. Instead, we use whatever carriers are best for your area. This keeps the data flowing at the speed of your business.

We deliver the data that you need, when you need it. We focus on quality data that can help you make better decisions and stay on top of your fleet in real-time.

You need a fleet tracking system that delivers. FoxTrax is that system. Call us now for a consultation or demonstration at 877-918-8808. We can save you money and make your life much easier.
