

Keeping your employees happy and looking good

Convenient, fast and flexible dry cleaning and laundry services

Regardless of our profession, employer or position, we all like to look good—both at work and outside of work. Clean and pressed clothes are part of that equation, but most of us cringe at the thought of making that extra stop at the dry cleaner on the way home from work.

Crest at Work solves that problem for businesses and their employees. Crest picks up, cleans and delivers your garments to your place of business. Remove that extra errand from the lives of your employees—it's the simplest and most cost-effective benefit you'll ever offer.

Dry cleaning and laundry services for businesses and their employees

CrestAtWork.com

Crest Cleaners works with a variety of clients and can clean everything including restaurant linens, lab coats, service uniforms, and of course the standard shirts, pants, suits and dresses.

Convenient and Flexible

- Crest at Work picks up and delivers garments directly to your place of business on a regular schedule.
- All orders are turned around within a few days.

Experienced and Reliable

- All Crest at Work Service Managers are experienced, reliable professionals.
- Your Crest at Work Service Manager serves as your complete account manager, handling both delivery and customer service.
- Crest Cleaners maintains its corporate headquarters in McLean, Virginia and 16 retail locations throughout Virginia and Maryland, allowing Crest at Work to deliver high quality, professional services to corporate customers.

Everything Under One Roof

- All cleaning is performed at Crest-owned locations by Crest staff, ensuring high quality from start to finish.
- Crest at Work's quality control leads to an enhanced corporate image and longer-lasting garments.
- Crest guarantees the quality of its laundry and dry cleaning services.

Environmentally Friendly

- Crest at Work uses only biodegradable, organic cleaning agents.
- Crest at Work's commitment to reduce its environmental footprint puts the company far ahead of even EPA standards.
- In addition to its Clean Care system, Crest also maintains a hanger recycling program designed to make a dent in the large volume of hangers that end up in U.S. landfills.

How it Works

The Crest at Work program is simple:

- 1 Once you've met with one of our Crest at Work Service Managers, we schedule the first pickup for your business.
- 2 We leave you with some bags to offer your employees and provide some ideas on communicating the new employee benefit.
- 3 We come back to pick up the bags, clean everything at Crest-owned locations, then deliver everything back within a few days to the designated spot within your office.

Meet Your Service Managers

The success of the Crest at Work program is driven by our maniacal focus on customer service, exemplified by the Service Managers who will be your personal account liaisons. All Crest at Work Service Managers are experienced, reliable professionals, backed by one of the largest laundry and dry cleaning operations in the Washington D.C. metropolitan area.
