We should start looking into Engage for Education use as well.

What would be different from the Corporate Edition?
Price Model? Private cloud or Engage in a box?
How to distribute it, per school or per district
Age limits? Middle School+ ?
Colleges?

Keeps kids away from email scams, facebook/myspace predators, safe fun environment to learn.

The screenshot displays the Engage web application interface. At the top, the logo for Engage (MangoSpring) is visible with the tagline "Smart tools for smart businesses". The user is logged in as Steve, with options for Help and Sign Out. A search bar and "Advanced search" link are also present. The main navigation menu includes Dashboard, Profile, Colleagues, Projects, Tasks, Org Teams, Applications, Settings, and Invite. The current page is "Projects > Create a new Project Team".

The form contains the following fields and options:

- Team Name: A single-line text input field.
- Team Description: A multi-line text area.
- Team Photo: A photo upload area with a "Change Photo" button and an information icon. Below it, the text reads "Recommended size: 250x250 px (< 10MB)".
- Team Permissions: Two radio button options:
 - Private - only invited people can view message or join
 - Public - anyone with a MangoSpring Engage email can view message or join
- Team File Upload Access: Two radio button options:
 - Anyone can upload media (with an information icon)
 - Only I or admin can upload media
- Tags: A multi-line text area with an information icon.

The screenshot displays the Engage application interface. At the top, the logo for Engage (MangoSpring) is visible with the tagline "Smart tools for smart businesses". The navigation bar includes links for Dashboard, Profile, Colleagues, Projects, Tasks, Org Teams, Applications, Settings, and Invite. A search bar at the top right contains the text "engage" and a search icon. Below the navigation bar, a blue header for "Search results" contains a search input field with "engage" and a "Search" button. The main content area shows search filters: Messages (104), IM/Chats (5+), Files (5+), Links (5+), Profiles (1), and Tasks (5+). A message card is displayed with the following details:

- Justin O'Neil (Offline): Engage ER diagram, generated using RailRoad gem. Attached file: `models.png`. Posted 1 hr ago from Web. Actions: Comment, Like, Watch, Add as Task.
- 3 colleagues liked this: Joe Louis Edmund, Henry James Blumenstein, Philip Louis.
- 1 Comment by Phillip Louis (Offline): "Phillip Louis is a good documentation for database model that is easy to keep upto date". Posted 1 hr ago from Desktop.

A comment input field at the bottom of the card says "Write a Comment..." and includes an "Attach" button. The right side of the interface shows a sidebar with a "Viewing 1 - 10 of 104 results" indicator and a list of search results.

The screenshot displays the Engage HR 2.0 web application interface. At the top, the Engage logo is visible with the tagline "Smart tools for smart businesses". The user is logged in as Steve, with options for Help and Sign Out. The navigation menu includes Dashboard, Profile, Colleagues, Projects, Tasks, Org Teams, Applications, Settings, and Invite. The current page is "Applications > Employee Recognition".

The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column, titled "Social Applications", lists various features: Employee Recognition (highlighted), Birthday Gifts, Office Poke, Quick Polls, and Idea Store. Below this is a "Download Applications" section with options for Desktop, iPhone, and Android applications.

The right column shows the "Employee Recognition" process. It starts with the instruction "1. Choose the type of award you want to give:" followed by a dropdown menu set to "Project Team Recognition". The second step is "2. Choose an award:", which displays a grid of award options including a person with a gift, a star, a "Good Work" certificate, a trophy, a "Congratulations" certificate, and another trophy.

A person in a suit is seen from behind, looking at the application. The overall theme is professional and user-friendly.
