Instructors Love Our Online Education Courses!

Listen:

It's no wonder Instructors love teaching Internet Field Days to HunterExam students. Instructors know that any student completing one of our state approved online courses has spent more than 5 hours with a professional narrator walking students through the entire hunter education study guide.

In particular, students with learning disabilities have embraced our online learning environment.

To find out more about teaching Internet Field Days in your area, contact your regional or state coordinator.
