Clinical Data Solutions
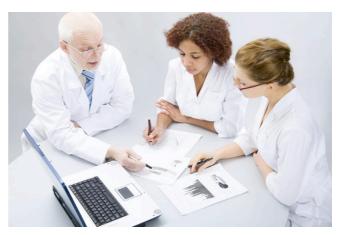

You innovate. We accelerate.™

Conducting a clinical trial is a daunting task that requires specialized resources. Acquiring these resources can be costly, time-consuming and often translates in major delays, negatively affecting your time to market. According to CenterWatch, 80% of clinical trials are delayed, resulting in additional development costs and hundreds of millions in lost revenue. Don't let yours be one of them!

Clinovo is the leading technology Clinical Data Solutions Provider delivering the fastest clinical trial development implementation in the industry. We have the resources you need to conduct efficient, timely, cost effective clinical trials. We have developed and assembled technology, software solutions, and best practices that are guaranteed to accelerate your clinical trial development cycle.

CLINICAL TRIALS REQUIRE NUMEROUS TASKS

You must manage many steps and procedures during clinical trials, including:

- Set up clinical trial infrastructures, often prone to delays.
- Capture high quality data, ensure industry compliance, confirm that the materials submitted from the clinical sites are completed on time.
- Provide all the necessary staff to support, monitor and manage your clinical trials.
- Ensure that the FDA submission is ready or on schedule.

OUR STRENGTHS

A client-focused business model

▪ Get a fully dedicated and responsive team. Our customer focused corporate philosophy and mid-size structure allow us to stay on top of our clients' needs and address them quickly.

▪ Leverage proven technologies and best practices that we constantly adapt to meet your evolving requirements.

Faster time to market

▪ Setup your clinical trial in half the time with already proven best practices and know-how.

▪ Access a team of experts in all aspects of clinical trial support, from biostatistics analysis to statistical programming as well as EDC solutions such as OpenClinica.

State of the art technologies and open platform

▪ Benefit from innovative technologies. As a Silicon Valley based company, we have developed turn-key solutions using the latest development tools.

▪ Keep full control of your data. Unlike other clinical trial services companies, we use open source technologies: we do not lock you and your data in a proprietary software platform.

Cost-effective solutions

▪ Save up to 40% on your clinical trial development costs with a quicker trial implementation.

▪ Leverage open source technologies with no licensing fees for even more saving.

OUR CLIENTS

Our clients include companies such as Genentech, Roche, Medtronic, Abbott, Nektar Therapeutics, Intuitive Surgical and Concentric Medical. For each and every one, Clinovo was able to develop unique solutions to answer specific needs and demands at lower costs, higher quality, and faster time to market.

"We found in Clinovo a trusted partner who delivers solutions faster than we could have done it in-house or with partners we have worked with"
