(May 20, 2010) Princeton, NJ—National Registered Agents, Inc. (NRAI) is pleased to announce the launch of its' first mobile website (m.registeredagent.com) to provide an easy way to connect with clients on the go.

The site is a mobile device friendly version of NRAI's Registered Agent website (www.registeredagent.com). Clients and potential clients can find general information about the company or use the Information Request Form to receive assistance from one of NRAI's experienced account representatives.

NRAI's Chief Operations Officer Dennis Tarzian said the mobile site was created to meet the changing demands of today's work environment, as more and more business people are relying on smart phones to find information instantly.

"The way people work has changed, work is no longer confined to an office. People need information while sitting at the airport, running to a meeting or working through lunch," said Tarzian. "We want to provide clients with the services they need at any time, from any location."
