What Others Have Said

"Like many homeowners, we had purchased our lot and were anxious to get going. Getting a buildable set of construction documents within a few weeks allowed us to file our permit and get the project going. This saved thousands of dollars in carrying costs and gave us the confidence that had a very efficient building envelope to work from. From there, we were able to turn out attention to the interior details with the builder and local suppliers. Our new home is now completed and uses about 40% less energy than other homes in our neighborhood."
