

Iris Data Services Hires New Director of Legal Services Leading Electronic Discovery Company Adds Brandon Mack to Manage Attorney Document Review

KANSAS CITY, June 30, 2010 — Iris Data Services, a leading provider of eDiscovery solutions, announced today they have hired Brandon Mack as their new Director of Legal Services. Mack will manage Iris' Attorney Document Review service at their corporate headquarters in Olathe, Kansas, a suburb of Kansas City. Iris Data Services is a leading supplier of electronic discovery solutions including eDiscovery, tape restoration, computer forensics, attorney document review, and online review utilizing their proprietary review platform, Unify™.

"Iris is one of the top litigation support providers in the industry," said Mack. "I am excited about leading their document review organization." In his role as Director of Legal Services, Mack will oversee Iris' legal review service offering.

"With the ever increasing population of documents that require legal review, Iris will significantly enhance our service offering by providing attorney document review," said the president of Iris, Major Baisden. "Brandon's extensive experience leading review teams will help Iris continue to be a single source for our clients in all phases of the discovery process, always providing significant increases in efficiency and cost savings."

About Brandon Mack

Brandon Mack has over ten years of experience in a variety of legal backgrounds specific to document review and auditing obligations. Prior to Iris, Mack practiced with a national firm that specialized in general corporate litigation, a regional financial banking institution, and a large national law firm where he led cases with regards to handling document review and auditing obligations. In his last position, he built from the ground up, a legal solutions division which encompassed document review and other legal services for large national corporations and law firms alike. While there, Mack led the successful effort to certify their processes for document review by the International Standards Organization under ISO 9001:2008 protocols. Mack holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Professional Accounting from Bob Jones University and a J.D. from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor where he is a member of the Michigan State Bar.
