Check out the above virtual books. Add your vbooks on your web site, or replicate them to CD/DVD for you to distribute at an upcoming trade show or client presentation.

We can even embed or stream video, audio and flash in your virtual book. Users can print your virtual book material, and even email it to coworkers. Have an important event coming up? We can customize your material for you for an additional professional effect.

How does this new technology work? We create your material in a self-executing format (great for CD distribution) or a compressed format for the web (all you do is download a small DNL reader one time).

Need proof?

Visit our marketing site at www.rescott.com, and download our "Great Ideas!" virtual book to see the virtual book capabilities in action. Then call at (317) 816-0700 or email us at sales@rescott.com today!
