Reptrax and VendorClear join forces Merger creates healthcare industry's largest vendor credentialing organization in North America

(Dallas, Texas, and Minneapolis, Minn.) – Reptrax and VendorClear announce today a merger of the two companies that will create the largest healthcare vendor credentialing organization in the United States.

Reptrax and VendorClear are pioneers in the healthcare vendor credentialing industry, bringing to market many industry firsts. The combined company will serve approximately 2,100 healthcare facilities in North America. Reptrax and VendorClear will continue to operate from their current locations in their pursuit to make the industry safer for healthcare employees, vendors and patients. The merger will not affect the daily operations at any healthcare facility.

"I couldn't be more excited about our companies coming together," VendorClear founder Mike Schreiber said. "The timing is right and the benefits to both hospital and vendor customers are the driving forces behind the merger."

"Hospitals and vendors alike have consistently clamored for consolidation in the vendor credentialing marketplace. This merger demonstrates how, by answering their call, the standard for accurate vendor credentialing has been set," Reptrax founder Peter Sheehan said. "Together we have the combined resources to lead the industry and deliver on our commitment to serve our customers."
