ELIZABETHTON, TENNESSEE

Elizabethton is a beautiful, historic town, set amidst the Appalachian Mountains in eastern Tennessee.

Elizabethton is a growing community of almost 14,000 residents; it has been named a “Three Star Community” for reaching the highest levels of economic performance. The town continues to experience success in new business development and expansion. Moderate property taxes and a great school system make Elizabethton an excellent place to raise a family.

Kayaking, fishing, camping, and hiking are popular Elizabethton pastimes. Watauga Lake, one of the “Great Lakes of the South,” features beautiful beaches set amidst the Cherokee National Forest and surrounding mountains. Elizabethton is also home to The Doe and Watauga Rivers, perfect for fishing and boating.

Elizabethton Golf Course is a mountainside course with tree-lined fairways. Golfers enjoy bent grass greens and bermuda grass fairways at a course located close to downtown Elizabethton.
