GLOBAL PROP TRADER

Why do we offer the Global Prop Trader Program?:

Having a sizeable team of GPT traders increases our YTR trading account volume to a level which allows us to command very favourable terms from brokers and partners. For example YTR's trading power means that we have access to some of the lowest institutional spreads available. This is a major benefit for our company and our GPT traders.

Rather than concentrating our trades into a few very large transactions that could have the power to "move the market" we are still able to trade significant amounts of capital by having many traders placing smaller lots thus allowing us to "fly below the market radar".

With many traders scattered in different global timezones we are effectively trading our YTR account 24 hours a day, thus maximizing return on our trading capital.

Global Prop Trader Key Benefits:

- Learn to become a professional FX trader whilst trading a fully funded YTR account – use our capital not yours
- Potential to earn an income with a substantial profit share up to 95%. Incomes at the highest levels can exceed $11,400 per week
- Low minimum weekly profit targets – 40 pips per week (8 pips per day)
- 12 advancement levels mean a comfortable step by step process to high achievement
- No trading risk – we carry the losses
- Choose your own hours - trade full or part time from home or anywhere, all at times to suit you
- Suitable for Beginner and Advanced trading level
- Extra incentives to encourage rapid progress for proven performers
- Earn while you learn
- Specialized small group training sessions

Our goal at YTR is to provide an advanced and specialized training and mentoring program for GPT interns with the goal of having you trade at the highest levels possible.

This is in reality an amazing business opportunity that requires no working capital and minimal risks whilst maximizing your earning potential.

5. TRADER ADVANCEMENT PROGRAM

The Trader Advancement Program will monitor and guide your development as a trader:

Risk Management Controls: The Advancement Program develops professional trading habits by enforcing tight risk controls at the earliest levels of the program through a weekly limit of trading losses.

Trader Advancement Process: By monitoring each trader's performance consistent profitability is rewarded with advancement to levels providing wider risk limits and greater buying power. Consistency in performance is rewarded rather than wild swings in the profit/loss column, and an average profit of only eight pips per day is all that is needed for a steady advancement through the program.

Trader Payout Rates: The trader is paid up to 95% of their total trading profits at the highest level. Traders who continue as proprietary traders for the firm will share profits at the payout rate of their performance level, up to 95% at the highest levels.

5.1. TRADER ADVANCEMENT GUIDELINES

Risk Management Controls

At each performance level, Global Prop Traders will be assigned a maximum position size, a weekly loss limit, and a minimum weekly target.

Maximum Position Size: This defines the limit for the total size of all open positions.

Weekly Loss Limit: If the Weekly Loss Limit is reached at any point during a week's trading, then all open positions will be closed immediately and the account will be temporarily disabled from further trading for the remainder of the week. Trading records will also be reviewed to consider returning to the previous performance level until consistent profits are achieved.

Minimum Weekly Target: This defines the minimum weekly profit target that is used in determining whether an account qualifies for advancement to the next level. (See below for further details.)

Trader Advancement Process

In order to advance to the next performance level, a Trader must meet one of the two following requirements at the end of a trading week:

- Achieve the minimum weekly profit target for two consecutive trading weeks; or
- Achieve a cumulative profit of two times the minimum weekly target since the last move to the current level.

After performance level 2, the life time cumulative P/L at the current level must also be positive in order to qualify for advancement to the next level.

If a Trader has a cumulative draw down equal to twice the minimum weekly profit target at any level, then their trading records may be reviewed to consider a return to the previous performance level.

5.1. TRADER ADVANCEMENT GUIDELINES

Trader Payout Rates

Traders will be paid 90% of their trading profits throughout the training phase of the GPT program. Traders continuing at the Professional Stage after that period will be paid the percentage indicated for their performance level in the Advancement Table, and that percentage will increase as Traders advance through the levels (see page 17).

Payout % - This defines the percentage of profits paid to the Trader at each performance level.

Annualized Minimum Target Payout – This represents the annual Trader payout that would be realized if the trader achieved only the minimum weekly target every week of the year.
