Dresser & Associates Makes Labor Law Hotline Service Available to its Customers

Sage Abra HRMS business partner, Dresser & Associates, to offer free telephone access to labor law attorneys as a benefit to its customers.

Scarborough, ME—September 13, 2010—Dresser & Associates, the country's premier Sage Abra HRMS (Human Resource Management System) business partner, today announced the availability of a new labor law hotline, staffed by the national labor and employment law firm of Constangy, Brooks & Smith. The new hotline service is available at no cost to Dresser & Associates' customers.

Dresser & Associates' customers may contact Constangy's labor attorneys through the hotline to obtain answers to questions and receive professional advice. The hotline will be dedicated to addressing employment and labor law related questions, as well as helping businesses solve employee related issues regarding benefits, compensation, employment, employee relations, workers compensation, overtime, hiring, firing, ADA, and other HR and compliance issues. Customers may also contact Constangy's attorneys via email, or through Dresser & Associates LinkedIn Group.

The new service is one of several recent initiatives launched by Dresser & Associates, all designed to provide the firm's customers with current, relevant, and useful information relating to human resources and payroll. Other offerings include a new quarterly legal update newsletter, co-published with Constangy, Brooks & Smith, and several upcoming workshops addressing labor law compliance.

"We believe our commitment to our customers goes beyond providing them with HR and payroll software and services," said Mark Dresser, president of Dresser & Associates. "We also want to serve as a central resource – a clearinghouse - providing multiple offerings and multiple access points where our clients can obtain the information they need to be successful in their businesses."
