The Giorry Story

May 2008 is a special month for Giorry and for its founder Raghad Mizban. Raghad gave birth to a very cute baby boy Emir. With the increased responsibilities and the need for a practical solution to carry all of Emir's belongings, she was surprised at the lack of availability of fashionable baby bags, unchanged since the birth of her beautiful baby girl Rana in July 2004. Not willing to compromise on practicality or style Raghad set out to design the Giorry Classic Collection.

Giorry bags are a true testament of the magic that is created when attention to detail, creativity and style are combined. Giorry is an old Mesopotamian word for a type of rose. Just like the rose, all of the Giorry bags are multi-layered, and the basic philosophy of Giorry is that if you combine multiple bags in one you would achieve functionality, style and beauty that will make your unique Giorry bag journey with you at every stage in your life.

We at Giorry are passionate about quality. That is why we only use the finest quality fittings and leathers, and that is why we handcraft each bag to give it that extra care and attention that you deserve.

We truly hope you enjoy your Giorry bags as much as we have enjoyed designing and making them!

Luxury Baby Changing Kit

No Giorry bag set is complete without the luxury baby changing kit. With a beautifully designed mat, distinctive trademark Giorry flower design and genuine leather belt detail that matches the colour of your favourite Giorry bag. The kit also includes the insulated milk bottle bag which is big enough to hold two bottles. Additionally the kit contains a dirty clothes' pouch which is neatly stored in the baby changing mat's internal pocket. This kit is part of any Giorry bag, but on its own it makes a perfect gift for the newborn baby girl or baby boy.

Say congratulations on the new arrival, the Giorry way!
