IMAGE ENGINE
A WILLIS GROUP US COMPANY

Company Overview

Image Engine comprises a team of seasoned professionals with an in-depth knowledge of strategic vertical markets and the solutions companies need to manage their information, improve their efficiency and control their costs.

Our team's extensive industry expertise and knowledge surrounding market leading business solutions, allows Image Engine to integrate multiple segments of Content management, Document Management, Web Content Management, Records Management and Project Management into a true enterprise-wide solution for your company.

Image Engine provides state of the art imaging solutions as well as Enterprise Content Management solutions, enabling internal and external users to benefit from rapid and secure access to content from any system across your enterprise.

Image Engine can bridge the gap between islands of information, disparate systems, and multiple document locations, to provide consolidated, secured, user friendly access to a virtual repository for all reports, documents and associated information.

Image Engine can provide an enterprise-wide solution incorporating Check in/Check out, Versioning, Archive Management and Change Management functionality as well as deliver the necessary tools for users to print, fax, email, search and export the report data for use in other applications.

Customers can expect to drastically reduce manual processes and associated costs related to information retrieval, hardcopy printing, reporting and distribution by implementing Image Engine solutions.

Reasons why successful companies choose Image Engine include:

- Innovation and leadership in technology
- Industry knowledge and consultation
- Focused commitment to the business
- Flexibility to support uniqueness
- Best in class quality and price
- Unsurpassed customer service

- Document Management
- Records Management
- Project Management
- Data Capture
- Document Scanning
- Data Entry
- Hosting Services
- Mail Room Services
- Document Shredding
- Consulting

About Image Engine

Image Engine helps clients simplify information management through the integration of multiple segments of content management, document management, web content management, records management and project management into a true enterprise-wide solution for your company.

About Willis Group

The Willis Group comprises a suite of service companies whose common cultural asset is an overriding focus on service excellence and value. Our mission is the establishment and growth of companies whose products and services create opportunity at the organizational and individual level for our clients and our companies alike.

Call us today and put paper in its place and power in your present:

Austin - (512) 870-7538

Houston - (281) 685-5738

Put paper in its place.