Las Vegas, NV -(10/21/10)- Visitors in Las Vegas are accustomed to preferential treatment and perks at hotels such as a comped lunch buffet or free drink when playing the tables. But only guests of the Las Vegas Marriott get perks without ever having to roll the dice. Whenever visitors choose the Las Vegas Marriott Blue Man Group package, they're given a 30% discount to a Blue Man Group show in addition to a complimentary breakfast for two. There are many unique sights and sounds in Las Vegas, but nothing comes close to what audiences experience from this unorthodox musical act.

Formed over 20 years ago in New York, the Blue Man Group is a concert, comedy act and visual effects show all rolled into one. A trio of men dressed in black with bald, blue heads conjure up an entertaining musical experience using nothing more than configurations of PVC pipe. Standing onstage along with an intricately coordinated video and light show, the Blue Men invite attendees to participate and help them along with their music. Family friendly and perpetually interactive, the show has received rave reviews in countries all over the world. Japan, Switzerland, Germany, Canada and the United Kingdom have all marveled at the truly unique showmanship that brings in record crowds year after year. Now that the Blue Men have found their way to sin city, the Las Vegas Marriott is able to give their guests good seats at a great price along with deluxe accommodations.

With the Blue Man Group package, guests are not only offered a nice discount, but a convenient location. The Las Vegas Marriott is merely two blocks from the show's stage at the Venetian Hotel. Upon booking, guests will be provided a code for discounts on Red or Blue Zone seating sections. After the show, they'll be able to walk up and down the famous Las Vegas Strip and try their luck at the seemingly endless row of world famous casinos. When their evening of spectacular entertainment and wondrous sights is over, the cozy accommodations of the Las Vegas Marriott will be waiting for them. In the morning, they'll wake up to a delicious, complimentary breakfast with great ambiance at café325.
