The Laguna Beach Sawdust Arts and Craft Festival started off as part of the Festival of Arts in Laguna Beach. A dispute over the jurying system splintered the Festival of Arts, and the Sawdust Arts and Craft Festival was born. The festival gives local craftsmen and artists a chance to display their work to the public while maintaining a relaxed and approachable atmosphere. Artists build their own booths, which often are creative as the work they produced. For decades, guests at the Sawdust Festival have enjoyed sampling some of the best crafted pieces made by real Laguna Beach artists, and this year promises to be no different. For more information on the Sawdust Festival please visit www.sawdustartfestival.org. Guests should note that this is an outdoor festival, but it will be open weekends from November 20 to December 12 rain or shine.

Laguna Beach offers more to see and do than just the Sawdust Festival. Guests can also discover boutique shops, art galleries, local dining options and even a vintage movie theater. Guests will find the Renaissance ClubSport Aliso Viejo hotel not only convenient to Laguna Beach, but to everything the Orange County area has to offer. From the historic Mission San Juan Capistrano to beautiful Newport Beach guests can discover some of the best attractions when staying at the hotel.
