

December 1st, take a pledge. Keep the promise.
Help stop AIDS and the disabilities it causes.

December 1st is World AIDS Day

This December 1st on World AIDS Day, if you are well, take a pledge to stay well. If you are safe, keep the promise to stay safe. And if you are in treatment, know that World AIDS Day is helping to make access to HIV prevention, treatment, care and support a critical part of everyone's human rights. Do your part to take a pledge, keep the promise...and on December 1st, spread the word to help stop the disease. Learn more at www.worldaidscampaign.org.
