What Our Clients Are Saying

I posted 3 jobs and was getting response the same day, and have interviews out with candidates to spare, as an SME I could not possibly give my job posting the exposure your site does, and all-in-one clever post. I have tried many job boards but the collection you have put together combined with the multipost really works!

I just wanted to add that the services that Recruitersite offer are fantastic and are of great value. I found it very easy to purchase and post a job and even better was the fact that it was fully automated which was a breathe of fresh air. Not having to speak to half a dozen people trying to sell me things I don't need to get a job on the internet. Many Thanks for putting this service together.

I have used Recruitersite on a number of occasions and found it to be a very effective way of getting my vacancies "out there". The site itself is user friendly and I find the pay-per-ad system to be excellent value for money. I would most definitely recommend Recruitersite.co.uk

As a recent new customer of Recruitersite I wanted to let you know just how delighted I have been with the service. The response I received from my adverts was excellent as was the quality of the candidates. Quite literally my first candidate was being interviewed by my client just 48 hours after the job being posted. The site is great to use and the technical support available allows new users to gain full functionality quickly and easily. Thanks Recruitersite.
