

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

QuantumPages Group changes its company name to Trunkoz

Mumbai – India – 8th Feb 2010 - QuantumPages announced today with immediate effect that it is changing its name to Trunkoz with the simple aim to begin a new era in the field of web based products. Approval for Change of company name from Registrars of Company has been received by company on 23rd June 2010 and after that company has processed majority of the formalities required at various institutions for reflecting its new name.

“The word Trunkoz has been originated from the English word ‘trunk’ which means the main stem of a tree.” said Ashish Shah, Founder & CEO of Trunkoz. He further continued “Trunkoz exactly is the main stem or branch of our four companies i.e. Infraster, TechBravo, ConnectReseller and QualiSpace.”

The term trunk is usually used as the base of a project on which development progresses. A change in name will increase the wisdom in the products and services through multiple web service brands, each catering to the specific needs and preferences of different customers like IT Solution Providers, Advertising Agencies, Domain Registrars, Domainers and Webhosts etc. Trunkoz will act like an arrow directing you towards the quality and efficient web based service shot from our imagination and knowledge.

About Trunkoz: Trunkoz is one of the leading IT Products & Services providers. The company has an experience of over 12 years in providing various services including Internet Data Center, Disaster Recovery, Mails & Messaging, Remote Infrastructure management & monitoring, Domain Registration, Hosting Services and Web Services automation products etc. Trunkoz offers multiple IT brands each catering the needs and preferences of different customers.
