iLiveMath App Series

Universal iPad, iPhone, and iPod Touch Apps for Public, Charter, Private, & Home Elementary Level Learning

"My oldest who says she hates math says that she loves word problems because they are not math but puzzles. Go figure? I don't care though. If she can do complex, multi-step math word problems then I know the other stuff at school will be fine. "

"Each of the iLiveMath apps are engaging and succeed in making mathematical connections to real world scenarios thus allowing math to "come alive" for students. This is a great alternative to traditional practice while still providing meaningful problems to further develop concepts."

- HYPERHOMESCHOOL

"What do we think of this app? I love the photos, as do the kids. Learning the names for groups of animals is a lot of fun. No multiple choice, which is nice....no multiple choice process of elimination stuff going on here! If I enter "11" the screen pops up telling me "Sorry. Incorrect Answer: 11" so I do know what I input. Hitting okay lets me try again. This time, it tells me "That's Correct. 7 + 3 = 10" I LOVE that the math equation is written out in the answer."

In the iLiveMath series, every theme is carefully selected to provide a foundation of teaching critical mathematical concepts, problembased learning, and logical thinking.

Three difficulty levels help students build confidence in reading and analyzing word problems. Tests and word problems are randomly generated with a natural language engine so no two tests are the same.
