

DR. OZ TOUTS AFRICAN MANGO DIET PILLS

Dr. Oz featured a special segment on his show for “A Miracle in the Medicine Cabinet,” where he recommends 3 Supplements to take Daily, including:

Vitamin 1 – VITAMIN B

Vitamin 2 – AFRICAN MANGO (Irvingia Gabonensis)

Vitamin 3 – MULTI VITAMINS

As for African Mango, also known as Irvingia Gabonensis, there is actually clinical evidence as to the value of African Mango with respect to weight loss. The research behind this supplement is well documented, with 3 studies measuring the effectiveness of Irvingia Gabonensis. They all turned out to show that taking the Irvingia Gabonensis supplements result in significant weight loss.

Why Dr. Oz Promotes IRVINGIA GABONENSIS

Dr. Oz promotes Irvingia Gabonensis, the African Mango extract on his show because it may be such an amazing weight loss pill that one can lose from 10-20 pounds without even changing their diet. According to Dr. Oz, Irvingia Gabonensis works in a ‘miracle way’ by using the starches in carbohydrates to use for energy. This is how you can continue to eat and have it turned into energy, thus losing weight. Now imagine increasing your workout as well!

Irvingia Plus with Irvingia Gabonensis, Quercetin, Green Tea, Acai Berry, and other great ingredients to help promote weight loss will give you energy, and get you into weight loss mode.

Dr. Oz revealed the miracle weight loss supplements, with the African Mango extract Irvingia Gabonensis, would help one lose anywhere from 10-20 pounds. The African Mango extract, Irvingia Gabonensis, can help promote weight loss, especially when combined with other fat-melting ingredients such as Green Tea, Acai Berry, Quercetin, and other ingredients. Dr. Oz also had further insight on the effects of Vitamin B and Vitamin E for weight loss.
