

Powerful conference tools in the hands of every attendee, for every event you manage at no additional cost!

At your meetings and conferences, your members are mobile and your conference needs to be as well. Mobile.events by Socious puts a powerful conference application in the hands of every attendee. Simply by using the Socious Events Online Registration System, each of your events can have a mobile event app at no additional charge! Finally a powerful application that will enhance your attendees conference experience without breaking your budget. Mobile.events by Socious give your conference and attendees the following powerful features:

Works on All Major Phone Platforms

Mobile.events is an HTML 5 web app optimized for iPhone, Android 2.1, Blackberry storm/storm2, Palm Pre/Pixi

A Fully Integrated Application

Mobile.events is fully integrated with the Socious Events system. The app for your event is automatically generated, so it is simple to deploy. Mobile.Events is also integrated with the Socious mobile.community app as well, so one application can fully address your organizations' mobile strategy.

Attendee Directory

Attendees can search for other attendees based on name, companies they work for and co-workers. Privacy can always be set so attendees can choose not to be listed.

Event Blog

Members can view, comment and rate your event blog run out of the Socious Events system all from their phone. Even when members are in a session or visiting the vendor hall, great content is right in the palm of their hand.

Event Information

Members can view general event information quickly and easily. Directions, hotel information, conference and vendor hall maps and other important information is now easily accessible from their phone.

Agenda Building/Searching

Attendees can access the entire conference agenda, session listings and full session information right from their phone. Attendees can search and browse sessions, view all session information, download presentations and build their agenda all from their phone. You have never seen mobile functionality like this!

Conference Updates

While at the conference, your members may need to be updated on session changes, session comments from presenters and more. Members can be notified via email and their updates are all viewable within the app as well.

Twitter Feeds

Attendees can access your conference Twitter account for official tweets about the event. The application will also pull in the hashtag feed for your event for all attendees to access. Enhance your conferences reach by making Twitter integrated into your conference and easily accessible through your conference application.

Vendor Directory

Give your conference vendor program the mobile visibility it deserves by listing your exhibitors, their website and booth location for attendees to access right from their phone.

It's FREE!

Mobile.events by Socious is included with the Socious Events system and the Socious Online Community System at no additional charge.

