

For small dogs with big canine dreams.

Welcome to the modern dog bed collection that bridges function and fashion. A far cry from the boring or cheesy beds of yesterday, Snub gives today's dog guardian a slice of style straight from the catwalk. Design that flirts with Warholian pop and pays homage to Missoni. Textures that Jonathan Adler may preen but doesn't have the uberchic prices. Something that allows for a change if the pup is feeling particularly urban and craves military green. Or is decidedly foxy and needs some fiery bitch.

Snub's first release includes one SnubFrame® with four SnubPads®.

The SnubFrame is made with black faux mink fur to make snubs feel like they are close to other dogs and protected by a sturdy frame. The SnubPads have a choice of four colors and are created with a thick canvas on one side for the hot days and black faux mink fur on the other for the cool nights.

Interchangeable SnubPads inspired by fashion houses.

Snub loves bold design as much as we love small dogs, so we constantly watch the releases from Paul Smith, Marc Jacobs, Kelly Wearstler, Philippe Starck and all those that bring fierce looks every season. This collection's runway-inspired colors are Fiery Bitch, Military Brat, Silver Spoon, and Ice, Ice Baby; the modern pet guardian is bound to find something that matches their pups personality and the interior aesthetic of their home.

Snub did extensive research to craft the perfect bed for small pups.

The combinations of our SnubFrame + SnubPad gives the support and comfort needed for the predominant sleeping styles and habits of dogs. There are four primary sleeping positions including belly sleepers, back sleepers, curled-in-ball sleepers and sleepers that like to sleep back-to-back with other humans or animals. The high-quality frame provides the height and head support needed to allow dogs muscles to remain relaxed. The faux mink fur on the frame and one side of the pad provides the needed warmth that is often found by sleeping next to other dogs. The overstuffed pad keeps the dog stationary and comfortable for a long nap or sleep.

WHY ARE WE NAMED SNUB?

It all started with a French Bulldog – one of our favorite of the snubnosed pups. Their bat ears and smushed snouts have long been the talk of the dog park, although mostly in jest. We love these little clowns and believe they and their snubnosed cohorts have been snubbed long enough!

Snub was created to empower all the height-jealous dogs by giving them all a (snub)pad they can call their own.
