Release your source code. Not your frustration.

You've relied on IBM Rational to keep your source code safe, and you've embedded change management deep into your development practices. So deep, it's hard to imagine any way it could be flexible, open and ready for new innovation.

That ends now.

Introducing Breeze from CloudOne. It's simply a managed ClearCase and ClearQuest service that's ready for use around the globe at any hour, but secure inside your own locked Virtual Private Cloud.

 Best of all, it's ready to connect to new requirements, testing and build technology that breathes fresh air into your development team and lifts them into higher productivity and new capabilities.

It couldn't be simpler – in fact, it's a Breeze!

CloudOne
DEVELOP HIGHER

CloudOne is the leader in lifting software and systems development on to the Cloud.

We elevate development team collaboration through secure Virtual Private Clouds, available at anytime to everyone, everywhere. We boost cost savings by filling Clouds dynamically with market-leading IBM Rational development tools through Software-as-a-Service. And, we raise productivity and quality through our CloudOne Consortium partners.   Learn more at http://OnCloudOne.net.

Efficient

Change and release management is the heartbeat of every application development lifecycle, and IBM® Rational® ClearCase™ and ClearCase™ are the heart of yours. But there is a cost: all of the hardware and maintenance for the servers it occupies, and the expense of the people who maintain, upgrade and troubleshoot the infrastructure. CloudOne absolves you of that, and lets you focus on writing great code.

Extensible

All too often years of customization and tweaking leave you wondering if there is any way to plug your core ClearCase and ClearQuest infrastructure into new tools and processes. The great news is that a cloud-based infrastructure lets you easily add Agile project teams through IBM® Rational® Team Concert™, and comprehensive test management through IBM® Rational® Quality Manager™.

Proven

A major retailer needed wanted to improve the flexibility of their ClearCase and ClearQuest infrastructure, while making it more globally accessible to teams in other parts of the world. They completed a successful migration to CloudOne in just a few short weeks. The results: A performance improvement of 30%, a significant cost savings over the "old" method, and a platform ready for global development.
