DLI.tools Introduces No-Risk
Proof of Concept offer

Limited time offer available until June 30, 2011; Perfect for Domino Document Manager Customers Weighing Their Migration Options

BURLINGTON, ON. March 31, 2011 - DLI.tools Inc., a leading ECM platform vendor for Lotus Domino®, Lotus® Quickr® and Microsoft® environments, has announced a no-risk Proof of Concept offer for Lotus Domino Document Manager® (DDM) customers. The Proof of Concept offer eases the movement from the soon-to-be-retired platform onto a leading ECM platform for Lotus Domino.

"The offer to Domino Document Manager Customers is simple: Pay only if you're satisfied with the results of the POC. If we can't prove to you that DOCOVA ECM is the best choice for your DDM migration and overall ECM platform – then you pay nothing." states John Ryan, Managing Partner and CIO, DLI.tools Inc.

The POC includes professional services from DLI.tools or a DOCOVA Business Partner to fully analyze and data model the DDM environment, migrate a portion of the DDM environment, the technical knowledge transfer and the creation of a fully functional pilot environment. At the conclusion of the POC, a migration recommendations report will be produced to show the best migration option for DDM, the expected costs and time line to complete the DDM migration.

"Lotus Domino Document Manager Customers seeking a Lotus Domino-based migration roadmap should consider DOCOVA ECM. DOCOVA is one of the best options for IBM DDM customers who have made extensive customizations to DDM," states Roland Driesen, Managing Director, Silverside, "Customers choosing the Domino-based migration option should expect noticeable cost savings vs. other migration choices."

DOCOVA ECM is a leading Document and Content (ECM) platform available on Lotus Domino – ideal for customers wishing to leverage their existing technology infrastructure and technical skills.

"We've seen a significant up-tick in DDM customers inquiring and purchasing DOCOVA over the last 6 months. Our customers tell us we represent the best cost-effective, value-based Document and Content Management (ECM) solution available for Domino Document Manager customers," concludes Ryan.

DOCOVA also supports leading DDM 3rd party products, thereby enabling organizations to further minimize any migration costs by carrying these technology investments forward. This POC offer is valid until June 30, 2011. For complete details regarding this POC offer, please visit www.docova.com .
