

NationalLink, Inc. Is Recognized As One Of The Top 50 Minority-Owned Businesses in Los Angeles County

NationalLink, an award winning national ATM and Payment Transaction company, is ranked by the Los Angeles Business Journal as its #24 Minority-Owned Business.

Los Angeles, CA – April 7, 2011 – The Los Angeles Business Journal announced its Top 50 Minority-Owned businesses in Los Angeles County this month. NationalLink, a leading provider of Automated Teller Machine (ATM) solutions from transaction processing to field service and repair, ranked No. 24 on the list, with an annualized growth rate of 14%. Information about the Los Angeles Business Journal Top 50 list is currently available on its website.

“We’re excited to be recognized by the Los Angeles Business Journal, as it is a significant validation of the hard work and customer service we have demonstrated towards our customers here at NationalLink,” said NationalLink’s CEO Sam Kandah. “We’ve experienced consistent strong growth over the past few years and are on track to continue this trend into the future.”

The 2011 Los Angeles Business Journal Top 50 Minority Owned Business list reported a strong and varied group of companies with aggregate revenue of $14.2 billion in 2010, up from $11.9 billion in 2009. The two largest companies on the list were - No. 1 clothing retailer Forever 21 ($2.6 billion in revenue), and No. 2 computer and consumer electronics retailer Newegg ($2.5 billion in revenue) – the third, fourth and fifth companies all broke the $1 billion mark.

Overall, the nation has seen its minority business owner rates significantly increase in the past five to ten years, and Southern California is no exception. The companies listed in this list are some of the most dynamic and innovative across the country, leading sectors including fashion, technology and finance, among many others. The good news for the economy has been companies like NationalLink have increased annual hiring by more than 100% in the last year, signaling growth demands more talent.
