

Mr. Gary Conner is an internationally recognized authority on the subject of Lean manufacturing.

Considered the Nobel Prize for manufacturing (Business Week); Mr. Conner was awarded the Shingo Prize in 2002 for his work "Lean manufacturing for the Small Shop." Published by SME (Society of Manufacturing Engineers). That text went on to outpace all other SME publications combined, becoming their best seller.

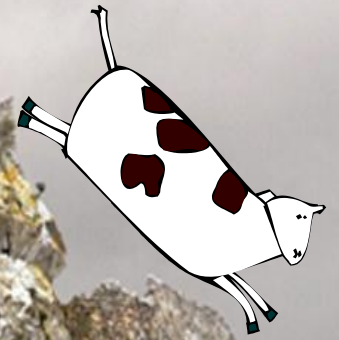

Author, consultant, trainer and kaizen facilitator, Mr. Conner has worked with over 150 companies, in 20 industries, facilitating over 500 kaizen events across the US and Canada.
