

Meniere's Disease & Trigeminal Neuralgia Symposium

A Story of Survival!

Rhonda and Dr. James Tomasi being interviewed by Dr. Michael Burcon on Health Talk

“When I cancelled plans to commit suicide in 1997, I had no idea we would eventually help thousands of people around the world get their normal lives back, too. After years of an embittered battle with “the Beast”, I decided to relinquish the war I’d fought for over a decade, and take my own life. After a 12-year mêlée with the agony of Trigeminal Neuralgia, such unbearable pain robbed me of hope, and all desire to live,” Dr. James D. Tomasi. The disease, TN, better known as the ‘Suicide Disease’, is an incurable nerve condition of the face. TN is the most painful condition experienced by man, with suicide being the only documented means of lasting relief. Years of medical treatments that included powerful epileptic drugs left me doped like a zombie. I was running out of time, trying to escape this pain that had taken over my life.
