

After 20 years in business, we've learned how to do a few things right. At the core of our business philosophy is keeping a fair pricing structure that allows us to pass on cost savings to you. We truly want to partner with our customers, not just supply to them.

As manufacturers – not importers – with streamlined production and distribution channels, we're able to produce and warehouse large quantities of product with low overhead. Owning our facilities and making all of our own products allows us to retain control over process, cost, and especially quality – you'll notice the difference with Friant products.

We invite you to explore our comprehensive product line that includes two panel systems plus a variety of casegoods, seating and accessories. Be surprised at the cost, but not the quality – it's our commitment to excellence.
