The Story of a Real Life Makeover

Laura's old suit had a V-neck to show off her bust, but it was lacking any oomph and her midsection let her down. In just 10 seconds, her new Sanibel turned her trim shape into sexy siren. Body shirring minimizes her waist, sweetheart neckline accentuates her bust and the high leg cut gives her length.

See this suit page 20.

The Story of a Real Life Makeover

Crystal is naturally stunning, especially with her sultry long red hair. But her old suit left her fading in the background and drew the wrong attention to her midsection. Now in her vibrant Sonatina, she's found her shapely and feminine curves and loves that her bust is emphasized and still held securely in place.

Shape Solution™ Icons

Our Swimwear Solutions are designed to help you draw attention to the positive and downplay those parts that you feel less secure about. Look for these symbols to note each style's strongest suit.

Accentuate Bust To flatter the bustline, or to balance a bottom-heavy figure, chose a swimsuit with halter styling, a deep v-neckline, stripes across the widest part of the bust, or a design embellishment that draws the eye towards the bustline.

AB

Minimize Bust When you want to add a bit of control to your curves, try a higher neckline, or one with mesh detail, to minimize cleavage. Stripes above or below the widest part of the bust will also visually slim and trim.

MB

Minimize Waist Don't despair if your middle needs to be whittled! Look for shirring at the waist, sides or middle, surplice (wrap) styling, and princess seams to hide a few extra pounds and move the eye inward.

MW

Slenderize Hips If your hips are on the heavy side, try a solid black bottom with a brighter top to keep the eye moving upward. A moderate leg cut will help shape and trim your hips, and a skirted bottom or swim shorts bottom can help you feel even more secure.

SH

Tummy Control Since Miraclesuit swimsuits contain a high Lycra content, the Extra Firm Control gives you the benefits of a tummy tuck without the inconvenience. The fabric slims the midsection by firmly supporting the tummy area and redirecting the eye to other areas of the body.

TC

Soft Cup Bra offers comfortable support, while defining shape. It consists of two separate foam pads and an elasticized bottom band.

Underwire Bra offers maximum bust support. It consists of two separate underwires and an elasticized bottom band.

Molded Cup enhances the bust, while offering comfortable support. It consists of a thicker, firmer padding and doesn't include an underwire.

Underwire Molded Cup is suitable for maximizing the bust, while enhancing cleavage. It features a thicker, firmer padding and an underwire bra.

High Scoop Back will rest where your bra would normally lay. It provides maximum support for the bust, while minimizing your back (mostly found in D-Cup, DD-Cup, and Women's selections).

Low Scoop Back will rest an average of 2-3 inches lower than where the bra would normally be. It provides minimal support, while minimizing your back.

Cross Back is a combination of a high scoop back, with two pieces of fabric constructed to form an 'X'. It offers maximum support for the bust (mostly found in DD-Cup selections).

Full Straight Back will lay where the bra normally would. It goes straight across the back. This is a basic back styling that provides comfort and support.

Keyhole is best for an athletic swimmer with a larger cup size. It provides similar support to an everyday bra with a clasp in the same area as a bra clasp.

Portrait Back also offers good bust support for athletic swimmers. A metal clasp keeps the straps in place, allowing you to be more flexible.

Measuring Tips

Bust: Measure fullest part of bust, keeping tape parallel to the floor.

Waist: Measure around natural waistline (not over shirts or pants). Keep the tape comfortably loose.

Hip: Stand with heels together. Measure across the fullest part, keeping tape parallel to floor.

Torso: Stand with heels together. Place tape in the center of the right shoulder. Drop the tape measure down your back, and pull it up at the crotch, bringing it back up over the fullest part of the right breast.

The magic is in the fabric.

Sure, the designs are pretty, but it all starts with the fabric. Miraclesuit's Miratex[®] fabric delivers three times the holding power of ordinary swimsuits for superior shaping. There's no need for sewn-in girdles or added bulk; you get lasting comfort and maximum control without a "stuffed sausage" effect.
