BOSTON MARRIOTT QUINCY COMPLETES $6.5 MILLION RENOVATION

South Shore hotel upgrades guest rooms, meeting space, lobby, concierge lounge and health club.

BOSTON, MA – The Boston Marriott Quincy has completed a three year, $6.5 million renovation, Marriott International announced. Guest rooms now feature the latest Marriott Hotels & Resorts design, with a fresh color palette inspired by nature, as well 37" HDTV and wired and wireless high speed internet access. Meeting rooms and the Junior Ballroom are freshly appointed, and this Quincy, MA hotel has added a new outdoor patio adjacent to the Junior Ballroom. The lobby evokes the Marriott Hotels & Resorts "Great Room" concept, featuring different types of seating, accessible power outlets and free wireless internet access. The fitness center has also been updated with state-of-the-art equipment, as well as cosmetic improvements to the pool area.

These renovations help establish this Boston South Shore hotel as one of the leading hotels in the area.

"The feedback from our guests has been phenomenal," said Boston Marriott Quincy General Manager David Cesario. "They love the look and feel of the renovated guest rooms and suites, the improvements to our concierge lounge, and the many additional upgrades that are evident throughout the hotel. As the Boston Marriott Quincy enters its second decade of award-winning service, it's never been better."

Located on Boston's South Shore, within easy driving distance of Boston, Plymouth and Cape Cod, the Boston Marriott Quincy offers 456 guest rooms and eight suites, 15,000 square feet of flexible meeting space, a fully equipped health club, an indoor lap pool and a whirlpool. Dining options include Hancock's steakhouse restaurant, Kilroy's Irish Pub and the Adam's Lounge, as well as room service.
