Get PReP-ed for a Career in Energy – Serve your Community

The Energy industry depends on excellence in selection and training. PReP Intl's comprehensive evaluation and understanding of an employer's needs can benefit you in your job/career search by:

- ⊖ reducing wasted time on job boards and in employment centers.
- ⊖ finding the "right fit" for you with the country's top employers, utilities and power companies.

The increasing number of industry retirees – especially in Systems Operations – opens the door for you. Our clients need to maintain compliance, adapt to changes in technology, build and maintain effective teams. We can help you get certified, put you to work in operational roles and provide on-going training and career support to help you become a player in this critical industry.

Our association with industry leader SOS Intl enables us to maintain the highest standards in training talent and gives you the best access to companies interested in engaging qualified professionals. PReP Intl will Assess, Prequalify and Deploy you as a professional in the energy industry.

The Shortest Distance to a Systems Ops Career

Our best clients recognize that many veterans have already demonstrated the ability to master core job requirements such as:

- ⊖ teamwork
- ⊖ reliably following procedures
- ⊖ critical decision-making
- ⊖ real-time communications and
- ⊖ dynamic situational awareness

These are the same characteristics needed to become a great system operator.

Why We're Different

PReP Intl knows energy and understands operations. We have developed a global network in over 1000 organizations and built a solid reputation as a leader in the fields of training and compliance with SOS Intl.

As a candidate, we will help you earn NERC certification and help you stay current with changes in regulatory standards through state of the art SOS Intl training.

Our clients need solid team players that are PReP-ed and ready to work effectively in the industry.

“As both a U.S. Navy and industry veteran, situations developed over the past couple of years where adding to my retirement income became important to my family and me.

PRReP Intl sponsored me for SOS

Intl training and within weeks I was recertified and working on a regular shift schedule with my local utility.

Through continuing education at SOS Intl, I am hopeful my current engagement as an Interim System Operator and Trainer may soon lead to regular employment with the team.

Seeing Energy Technology as the sector of the economy with the best long-term potential, my son-in-law who works and attends college part-time has registered with PRReP Intl in hope of kick-starting his career.”
