Eight years of experience developing effective training and compliance solutions for over 1000 clients, has trained us to recognize great talent. We've seen that no matter how well you train people, having “the right stuff” to begin with makes all the difference. PReP Intl was created to help operations teams fill critical roles and to develop solid long-term talent. No doubt, hiring right the first time saves real time and real money – it also reduces risk.

Shorten the distance to expertise and reliability

PReP Intl Helps Close the Gap

With little margin for error in staffing, the industry depends on excellence in selection. PReP Intl's comprehensive evaluation of candidates makes good sense. We reduce hiring risk and optimize your recruiting and training dollars.

In anticipation of rapid industry changes such as the increasing number of retirees in Systems Ops jobs, we are PRePared to help you: maintain compliance; react to and succeed in this ever-changing environment by taking one critical to-do off your plate.

Our association with industry leader SOS Intl enables us to maintain the highest standards in training our talent pool and gives you the best access to engaging qualified professionals. Attack the risk of a new hire fitting in by letting PReP Intl Find, Assess, Prequalify and Deploy a professional to your team. Keep them on OUR payroll until YOU ARE READY to consider them for regular employment.

Why We're Different?

- ⊖ PReP Intl knows energy, understands operations and organizational development. Through our sister company, SOS Intl we have developed a global network in over 1000 organizations and built a solid reputation as a leader in the field.
- ⊖ Our candidates are NERC certified and stay current with the latest changes in regulatory standards through state of the art SOS Intl training. This eliminates the risk of expending countless training dollars on an “untrainable” employee who may never achieve certification. PReP Intl provides solid candidates that are ready to work effectively with your team – already PRePared.
