

NexTec Group to Implement the First North American Sage ERP X3 Standard Implementation for Leading Orthotic Firm

NexTec Group and Leading Orthotic Firm Find the Right Fit with Sage ERP X3

Seattle, WA – July, 26th 2011 – NexTec Group announced today that a global manufacturer and distributor of custom orthotics and shoes have selected Sage ERP X3 Standard Edition to manage its complex operations. This will be the first Sage ERP X3 Standard Edition implementation in the US.

Sage ERP X3 Standard Edition offers the full power of enterprise-class ERP, in a simple and flexible package, designed to meet the requirements of mid-sized companies with complex business processes in a time and cost efficient way. This edition provides a predefined, yet adaptable, implementation framework to customers interested in deploying the solution in a reduced timeframe, with industry-standard business requirements and processes.

Realizing that secure and consistent business growth would require an ERP solution that provided accurate business insight as well as the foundation for an all-inclusive business process solution, the CFO and COO began evaluating several leading mid-market manufacturing and distribution packages.

Their search led them to NexTec Group and Sage ERP X3. They were impressed with the inclusive functionality and extensibility of the X3 platform. Their current legacy system lacked integrating business processes, and they will now be able to have insight into their customer history, inventory, sales, and manufacturing in a single application.

They plan to begin implementing Sage ERP X3 with their distribution location with a focus on inventory control and customer service. They will subsequently roll-out phases to their international manufacturing operation. Their CFO stated, "We like X3 because it gives us the ability to expand into our Chinese location without having to purchase 3rd party software. Sage ERP X3 has the functionality we require to get started [with the implementation] and allows us to deploy additional features when we are ready. It gives us the platform to expand at our own pace."
