New LifeStyles Launches Mobile Senior Living Directory

The leading Senior Living Directory just became more accessible with the launch of a mobile website.

Dallas, TX – As more and more seniors look for an active living, retirement or assisted living community or nursing center, the choices stack up and the prospect of making an educated decision becomes difficult. Thankfully, New LifeStyles, a trusted source for senior living information, is making it easier than ever to make an informed decision. On September 7, New LifeStyles launches a mobile website, allowing seniors, their families and the professionals helping them to have access to its extensive services on the go.

The new mobile site will be accessible by most major phone operating systems, including Android devices and Apple iOS (download free iPhone App at the App Store). Mobile phone users will be able to access many of the same features as the website, including a nationwide comprehensive senior living search. A senior living directory can also be ordered via the mobile website.

To access the new mobile website, simply visit the New LifeStyles website on a smart phone, which will redirect visitors to the mobile site. The direct address to the mobile website is m.newlifestyles.com.

The mobile website can particularly help seniors locate lifestyle choices in their immediate vicinity. Using the GPS function of many cell phones, the mobile website can map and list nearby senior living and care options.
